

Micro Peel Plus

Description

Designed to repair and refine skin texture damaged by environmental factors and skin conditions such as acne, the Micro Peel Plus is a salicylic acid, beta-hydroxy acid (BHAs), treatment used to eliminate dead skin cells and debris while stimulating the skin's natural renewal process. Tailored to your individual skin type and long term goals, the appropriate percentage will be chosen by the aesthetician after a consultation.

The extent of the exfoliation depends on the concentration of the BHA. Concentrations of 20% and 30% are available.

Approximately one week after the procedure, your skin will undergo the renewal process by shedding its dead outer layer. Depending on your skin you may or may not experience peeling. With a series of treatments and in conjunction with other rejuvenating techniques, the Micro Peel Plus will restore refined skin texture and clear beautiful skin.
